

Response to Law (Undergraduate) Board of Studies student consultation (February and March 2023) on face-to-face teaching, cluster forums and retention

Summary

This is a response to the consultation on the return to face-to-face teaching at Levels 1-3, the use of cluster forums at Level 1, and of issues affecting retention for law students. This took place between 27th February -13th March 2023. The summary of student feedback is below.

The purpose of the forum was to obtain feedback on the student experience of:

- Return to face-to-face teaching which was resumed in October 2022 following the impact of the C19 pandemic. Feedback will inform the development of future face-to-face learning events within the Faculty.
- The use of module Cluster Forums in comparison to Tutor Group Forums at Level 1. Feedback will inform future forum planning and support attempts to increase student engagement with Forums and used to shape provision at Levels 2 and 3.
- The different ways in which students remain motivated with their study. Feedback will help to identify any additional measures that could be taken to enhance engagement and retention.

Details of student participation were as follows:

- The forum was open to students studying the following modules: W111B, W111J, W112B, W112J, W202J, W203J, W302, W330J, W360J
 - Students were contacted via email from the BoS Consultation Team, invited via Module Forum Posts, Module News Pages etc
- 25 students registered to take part in the consultation forum.
- 177 student posts were made
- 20 students posted at least once and there were 45 student posts in total.
- Total ratings (most posts by user): 15
- Estimated readers (minimum): 91
- Total subscribers: 45 (even students who had not subscribed were still able to participate)
- Moderation was carried out by two Central Academics, three Lecturer and Student Experience Managers, and one AL Representative

Threads were set up covering:

- Effectiveness of Cluster Forums in supporting with module activities
- The ways in which support provided in Cluster Forum differs to that of Tutor Group Forums
- The extent to which Cluster Forums provided an opportunity to collaborate more widely with peers
- The ways in which experiences of face-to-face events have supported study and provided an opportunity to collaborate with peers
- Reasons for non-attendance at face-to-face events
- The extent to which experience of face-to-face tutorials has differed from that of online tutorials
- Factors that motivate to continue with study

Participants were also invited to start their own threads in the event they had feedback which did not fit into any of the existing threads. A summary of the points raised appears at the end of this report.

Highlights

In general, feedback was positive throughout in relation to F2F tutorial experience, with many students also providing positive feedback in relation to their experience of online tutorials. From the responses provided, it would appear that greater flexibility in location of F2F events would be appreciated by many students, and some interesting suggestions were made in relation to enhancing the online provision and increasing engagement.

The overwhelming feedback in relation to forum use, whether tutor group forum or cluster forum, is that these platforms are "out of date" and not user-friendly. Some interesting suggestions were made by students, including providing the option to anonymise posts or change user names to try and encourage greater participation.

Full response

If you have not attended F2F Tutorials...

General questions posed for students to consider

Without mentioning specific staff members or students, if you have not attended face to face events, please let us know why this is, and what we could do to encourage you to attend in the future.

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate
Several students responded by stating that distance and lack of local options was the main reason for non-attendance, however emphasised that they would like to be able to do so and meet other students	Scaled back provision following pandemic Students dispersed over UK so key hubs used in 2022/2023 for running tutorials	Feedback will be passed on to relevant bodies within the University for review ahead of forthcoming presentations where face to face tutorials are available
A few students said that their non-attendance was due to practical restraints e.g. lack of awareness of tutorial events, cost of travel, need for overnight accommodation, childcare difficulties – this latter point was made several times in relation to traditional caregiving responsibilities falling to female students, resulting in gender-split in ability to attend F2F.	Always online provision to cater for those with multiple demands on time. Some modules have focused on providing invite/reminder of tutorials in feedback. Tutors are also asked to remind/invite students to tutorials.	This will be passed on to the Student Support Team (SST) for further action in relation to raising awareness of bursary funds which may be available There will also be greater publicity in 2023/24 in relation to provision for tutorials.
Double-booking prevented some attendees e.g. W202 and W203 had Day Schools scheduled for the same day causing conflict. Considerable praise for online teaching being the preferred method. One student said that "online learning" was the "attraction" of the OU and	Online alternatives always available	Feedback will be provided to Module Teams and AL Services Teams at timetabling stage to endeavour to avoid clashes in 2023/24. The University would like to extend thanks for this positive feedback which will be passed on to relevant teams.
that F2F was not of interest. Another student praised the quality of delivery through Adobe Connect.

In what way have your experiences of F2F events supported you in your study and provided you with an opportunity to collaborate with your peers...

General questions posed for students to consider

Without mentioning specific staff members or students, if you have attended face to face events, please let us know how you have found face to face learning events in relation to their enabling you to work with your peers and enhance your study. For example, you may want to consider how the experience differs to online learning events

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate Overwhelmingly positive		Thank you for this feedback from most		constructive and helpful students about the		feedback. We will ensure opportunity in F2F sessions		that Module Teams to "engage" with both		continue to look for new tutors and peers. The		and innovative ways to "personal" and "interactive"		encourage greater and "participative" nature		interactivity in online of F2F tutorials facilitated		events, and aim to make the "free flow" of discussion		provision for further training and "shared experience"		for our AL community.
not possible in online events, where students can be more passive
Several students referred to	Student responded to	We will share this feedback their belief that university is	thread and shared	with Module Teams a "social" experience as	information about OULS –	regarding considering well as an "academic"	this was followed by	piloting of enabling tutorial experience which is the	Moderator providing link to	rooms to remain open for appeal of F2F events. Within	OULS.	30mins after tutorials have this response, several		concluded, and to consider interesting suggestions	The OU also has the	the feasibility of facilitating were made e.g. keeping	Belonging Project which	some online social events Adobe open 30mins after	provides student-led coffee	on modules in conjunction tutorial with automatic shut	events, facilitating social	with pre-arranged sessions off to allow students to	events. This will be	already being provided by socialise, holding specific	repeated in 2023-24.	the Belonging Project.
Adobe "social sessions" at points in the module for	The OUSA also has a students to get together	regular series of social virtually – this point was	events. picked up by international students who commented that there are no F2F events but that a bi-module
"social" event in their home country for students to attend would be well received.

How have your experiences of F2F tutorials differed from that of online tutorials

General questions posed for students to consider

Without mentioning specific staff members or students, please let us know how your experience of face-to-face learning events (tutorials) has differed to online events

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate Students responded to say	Through analysing	A pilot F2F conference for that attendance is similarly	attendance data,	Level 1 and 2 law students is "poor" in both F2F and	attendance at online	in the planning phases - online events.	tutorials has demonstrated	due Spring 2024. a higher uptake than at F2F events.
One student said that their	Whilst this is an interesting experience was that F2F	suggestion, at present, was more "engaging"	online tutorials are not however that Adobe was a	lectures and therefore it is "good platform" for online	important that students are learning. A suggestion in	able to interact throughout relation to enhancing	and raise questions via online provision was to hide	chat should they need to the chat box during content	do so throughout the event. delivery to ensure that attendees can remain "focused" by what is being delivered.
One student suggested a	These are very interesting	It is OU policy to provide change in tutorial style.	ideas; "lecture-style"	both recorded and non-Have clearly labelled pre-	recorded tutorials are	recorded tutorials and this recorded "lectures" with	already being piloted on	needs to continue. There tutorials being "workshops"	some modules and may be	are practical difficulties in for interactive activities.	rolled out further.	forcing camera use, Another suggestion was to		including internet remove "recorded/not	Cameras on / Cameras Off	connection, however as a recorded", and instead	- this will be shared with	pilot we will share this have "cameras	module teams.	suggestion with Module on/cameras off" events to		Teams to see whether there require participants to use		is an option to have cameras.		tutorials where camera use is "encouraged" and advertised in the tutorial booking system.

In what way does the support in your Cluster Forum differ to that of your Tutor Group Forum...

General questions posed for students to consider

Without mentioning specific staff members, please let us know how consider the support differs between Cluster and Tutor Group Forum. For instance, has the source of support available in each differed? Has one source of support been more helpful to you, and if so, how?

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate Overwhelming response	Whilst we know that	Outcomes from the Law from most participants is	students prefer other social	Peer Mentoring Scheme in that forums are no longer a	platforms, the OU has a	2022-23 will be analysed preferred method of	strict policy surrounding the	and shared amongst communication, and that	use of social media for	Module Teams for future faster more instantaneous	module-related discussion	use.
forms of communication	to safeguard the student (e.g. WhatsApp, Teams) are	experience Social Media	Feedback will be passed on preferable. The nature of	Policy (open.ac.uk) The Law	to the Faculty and using any Forum was	Peer Mentoring scheme ran	University; delivery described as "tedious" with	as a pilot in 2022-23 and is	platforms are decided at a multiple clicks required to	awaiting evaluation.	university rather than engage and respond.		module-level.
Some students expressed	While we appreciate that it the view that forum	can be nerve-wracking to engagement may be low	make forum posts, it is because students may be	vitally important to develop afraid of "making a	skills in communicating in mistake" or looking "stupid".	an academic community. It A suggestion was then	is expected that, through made to anonymise posts,	the course of their study, or enable students to	students will develop change their user name.	transferable skills relevant to their future career and so participation in Forums provides an invaluable opportunity to do this.

Suggestions included larger group sizes to increase engagement, seeding discussions to "get the ball rolling" and "push notifications" enabling quicker access	Some modules already publish "Weekly Top Tips" for each Tutor to post within their TGFs, with a view to seeding discussions and facilitate/encourage debate and participation. On some modules, there are "Combined TGFs" (where a tutor has more than one group on a module). The principle behind "Cluster Forums" was to facilitate larger group size discussion opportunities.	Thank you for this suggestion which will be passed on to the Faculty with a view to looking to run an engagement scholarship project for 2023-24.
--	---	---

To what extent has the Cluster Forum provided you with an opportunity to collaborate more widely with your peers?

General questions posed for students to consider

Without mentioning specific staff members or students, please let us know whether you have found Cluster Forums helpful in enabling you to make contact and work collaboratively with other students. Has this been a positive experience, and if so, how does this differ to the opportunities provided in Tutor Group Forums?

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate Students responded to say		Please see response to that their experience of		previous question.
their TGF was that they		Further suggestions will be have a more "personable"		passed on to Module experience in comparison		Teams with a view to to Cluster forums however		considering feasibility of a using TGF was "off putting"		pilot for cluster forms in due to low student		2023-24 with named engagement		moderators aiming to facilitate increased personalisation and engagement.

How effective have you found your Cluster Forum in supporting you with your module activities?

General questions posed for students to consider

Without mentioning specific staff members, if your module utilises Cluster Forums, please let us know how you have found the support you received through Cluster Forums. For instance, thinking about completing your module activities, have you found Cluster Forums helpful and if so, how this might compare to other support?

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate Similar to other responses relating to Forums, students suggested that Cluster Forums were "not effective due to students not using them", that using Cluster Forums "took time" and that the system was "out of date" In comparison to e.g.
Twitter style platforms
One student commented		Provide feedback for all that some Forums have		Module Teams regarding weekly "Top Tips" which are		benefits of Weekly Top Tips, helpful, however this is not		with a view to seeing if this universal across all		can be rolled out for all modules.		modules.

What motivates you to continue with your studies?

General questions posed for students to consider

Thinking about the different tuition support available on your module, for example:

- one to one calls with your tutor
- cluster forum
- tutor group forum
- face to face events
- online tutorials

Without making reference to specific staff members or students, please share with us what has been the most valuable in motivating you with your study

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate Many students responded	Students can feedback via to say that tutorials (both	variety of method – TGF, online and F2F), detailed	Consultations, Contact MT tutor feedback, responsive	through SST, and email: ou-tutors, and meeting other	law@open.ac.uk students as being key motivators. One studentImage: Student suggested being able to provide "post-module assessments" of tutors.One student referred to their career aspiration being their main motivating factor. Another student referred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.The OU has a careers serviceA student responded to say that in their viewStay motivated with study. suggested being able to provide "post-module assessments" of tutors.The OU has a careers serviceOne student referred to their career aspiration being their main motivating factor. Another student referred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.The OU has a careers serviceA student responded toStay motivated with study]	students as being key provide "post-module assessments" of tutors.The OU has a careersOne student referred to their career aspiration being their main motivating factor. Another student referred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.The OU has a careers serviceA student responded toStay motivated with study	motivators. One student assessments" of tutors.The OU has a careersOne student referred to their career aspiration being their main motivating factor. Another student referred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.The OU has a careers serviceA student responded toStay motivated with study I	suggested being able to One student referred to their career aspiration being their main motivating factor. Another student referred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.The OU has a careers serviceA student responded toThe OU has a careers service	provide "post-module their career aspiration being their main motivating factor. Another studentserviceCareers support is available on Law StudyCareers support is available on Law Studye.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.Home.A student responded toStay motivated with study	assessments" of tutors.

being their main motivating factor. Another studentCareers support is available on Law Studyreferred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.Careers support is available on Law StudyHome.Mathematical factorsStay motivated with study I	One student referred to	The OU has a careers factor. Another studentCareers support is available on Law Studyreferred to financial factorsavailable on Law Studye.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying theirHome."family" is their key motivating factor.Stay motivated with study	their career aspiration	service referred to financial factors e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.available on Law Study Home.A student responded toStay motivated with study [being their main motivating e.g. cost of degree, with a further student saying their "family" is their key motivating factor.Home.A student responded toStay motivated with study	factor. Another student	Careers support is further student saying their"family" is their keymotivating factor.A student responded toStay motivated with study	referred to financial factors	available on Law Study
"family" is their key motivating factor. A student responded to Stay motivated with study	e.g. cost of degree, with a	Home .
motivating factor. Stay motivated with study A student responded to Stay motivated with study	further student saying their
A student responded to Stay motivated with study	"family" is their key motivating factor.
say that in their view Help Centre The Open	A student responded to	Stay motivated with study say that in their view	Help Centre The Open "motivation comes from University	"motivation comes from	University within" so that the OU	within" so that the OU "shouldn't worry about	"shouldn't worry about shouldering the	shouldering the responsibility to motivate	responsibility to motivate students"

STUDENT/MODERATOR THREADS

You said	OU response	Next steps, if appropriate
DEVELOPING SKILLS	Some modules have (INITIATED BY CA	trialled this in the past, MODERATOR)	however attendance at Special tutorial sessions on	Skills-only tutorials has skills would be helpful	been lower. This is why skills based on individual student	and knowledge are need	incorporated in main Oral skills development	tutorials.
would be helpful in Law.
Suggestion to make the tutorials "recorded" and the Tutorials "skills sessions" with pre-circulated problem questions to enable students to work through IRAC etc in a live session

LIBRARY SERVICES (INITIATED BY STUDENT) Library resources are excellent "fantastic resource" e.g. webinars Suggestion to increase tutorials/workshops on using Westlaw/Lexis etc	A variety of library sessions are already offered on some modules e.g. W111, W211, W212 and W360	Thank you for this suggestion. Module Teams will be asked to consider whether there is scope to increase these sessions in 2023/24.
TUTOR BIOS - (INITIATED BY STUDENT) Students would like to learn about their tutors backgrounds - Google and LinkedIn give some info but students would like to know more Students would like to know more Students would like to "request" specific tutors depending on their areas of expertise/experience Students would like to be able to "cut red tape" and make requests for change of tutor based on experience and engagement in tutorials	The Open University model for allocating students to tutors doesn't allow for this level of choice regarding which tutor a student is placed with for a module or academic year.
(RECORDED) HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR LEGAL ESSAY FEEDBACK - (INITIATED BY STUDENT) Positive feedback on 26/2/23 for tutorial which helped with referencing which would have been useful at the start of the module	Material and guidance is always available in the Law Undergraduate Guide, and Law Toolkit on the Law subject site, with referencing tutorials offered by certain modules e.g. W111	